He has been chairman of the Executive Committee of the Southern Pacific.

He will direct the affairs of the company from this city.

[H. E. Huntington is on his way to San Francisco and will arrive here next Thursday. He is first vice-president of the road and will undoubtedly have charge of affairs in San Francisco.]

BEATS WIFE WITH IRON CLUB.

Indiana Farmer, Believing That He Killed the Woman, Shot Himself.

HOBART, Ind., Sept. 30.—Frederick W. Hartman, an aged farmer living near here, fatally wounded his wife, aged 59 years, by striking her several times on the head with a piece of iron. Leaving her for dead, he went into his bedroom and committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

Mrs. Hartman's skull is fractured. The couple had been married forty-five years and had raised a family of five children.

Of late they had quarrelled over money matters.

GOV. DOLE HAS NOT RESIGNED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Henry E. Cooper of Hawaii has arrived today and denied the report that he was being the resignation of Governor Dole to the President.

Mr. Cooper said that so far as he knew Governor Dole not only has not resigned, but has no intention of resigning.

To him the Governor had not even mentioned or intimated that he had any such purpose in view.

STRIKERS MEETING WITH POOR SUCCESS.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Trains on the South Side ran on schedule time today. Pickets representing the strikers appeared at many of the stations, but were unsuccessful in securing recruits. The strikers today issued a statement to the public officially denying responsibility for the attempt to derail a train at Thirty-fifth street last night.

DO NOT BELIEVE ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO DESECRATE WILLIAM M'KINLEY'S TOMB.

THE SHOOTING IN THE CANTON CEMETERY IS SHROUDED IN MYSTERY — MILITARY OFFICERS ARE MAKING A CAREFUL INVESTIGATION.

CANTON, Ohio, Sept. 30.—Friends of the family of the late President McKinley emphatically discredited belief in the idea that the shot reported fired by the guard at West Lawn Cemetery last night, was on account of any attempt to desecrate the tomb.

They do not attempt to explain the strange story of the guards or account for the firing of the shot, which the cemetery officials and other residents near-by say they heard, and they do not believe two men would undertake to make an attack on the vault with seven soldiers on guard.

It is believed the military authorities will make a thorough investigation. There is an unconfirmed rumor that the shot was fired on account of an accidental fall, and also that it was on account of personal difficulties. The

GENERAL BOTHA MAKES ATTACK

Many of the Britishers Suffer in the Lively Engagement.

DURBAN, Natal, Sept. 30.—A force of 1,500 Boers, commanded by General Botha, made an attack which lasted all day long, September 26, on Port Natal on the border of Zululand.

The Britishers were finally repulsed, but at a heavy cost to the garrison, whose losses were an officer and 11 men killed and five officers and 38 men wounded.

In addition 68 men are missing, of which number many are believed to have been killed or wounded.

The Boer Commandant Opperman and 19 Boers are known to have been killed.

WILL TAKE THE MEN FROM ANOTHER STATE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 30.—Arthur Goebel and the other men from Kentucky who on Saturday applied to the Governor for a requisition for the return of W. S. Taylor and Charles Finley, called at the Governor's office at 10 o'clock today. Governor Durbin told them to return this afternoon. The Governor's secretary said it was probable that no formal answer would be made by the Governor today, but it was practically understood he will consent to the requisition of the men.

MOBS COLLIDED AND THERE WAS TROUBLE.

MADRID, Sept. 30.—The anniversary of the revolution of 1808 was celebrated at Madrid and other towns yesterday. At a meeting of twenty thousand Republicans and Socialists at Barcelona the crowds proceeded to lay a wreath upon the monument of General Prim, the once famous insurgent leader in Spain. The mobs collided with the police, who fired in response to a volley of stones.

Three of the persons participating in the demonstration and two police officials were wounded.

The nominations for minor offices depend on the Mayoralty fight.

RUSHED BY BOLOMEN AT SAMAR.

Additional News in Regard to the Slaughter of a Company.

MANY KILLED AND WOUNDED.

MANILA, Sept. 30.—General Hughes from the Island of Samar reports the arrival of Sergeant Markley and one private at Tannan from the fight at Balingiga, where over forty men of Company C, Ninth Infantry, were killed by insurgents, who attacked the troops at breakfast Saturday last. The men who have reached Tannan say that the officers of the company, who were at first reported to have escaped, were killed with the majority of the company. The troops were attacked by 400 bolomen, of whom the Americans killed about 140. Many of the soldiers were killed in their quarters before they had time to grasp their rifles.

General Hughes is going to the scene of the disaster and will personally command the troops.

Maccellino Mariville, President of Banoang, is the chief of the new branch of the insurgents' society, who were recently armed. One policeman admits that he was taxed a dollar and was ordered to make bolos. A regular collection has been made from the natives, either by persuasion or threats and an uprising had been planned for an early date.

The conditions in Tayanbas and Balingiga are not reassuring. The worst form of guerrilla warfare prevails there. The insurgent forces are distributed, under cover, along every road and trail and wait for travelers in ambush. The insurgent leader, Caballos, who formerly belonged to General Calles' command, but who refused to surrender with Calles, is retreating to the mountains. The main forces of the

SHOWERS IN THE SOUTH.

FRESNO, Cal., Sept. 30.—There was a smart shower last night amounting to .48 of an inch and .56 for the two showers so far this season. The weather is cloudy and threatening, with probably showers tonight and tomorrow.

The Weather Bureau gave ample warning yesterday so that all growers stacked the crops.

This has not always been possible because of the vineyard laborers being scarce.

The outlook is that the damage will not be general, though the shower was a liberal one for the period of duration, which has the effect of further retarding the already late output of raisins.

The estimate is that the raisin crop will be only 2-3.

A ROYAL RECEPTION AT VENICE.

King and Queen of Italy Are Well Received by Their Subjects.

SCENE OF GREAT SPLENDOR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A dispatch to the Herald dated at Venice, Italy, says: For the first time since their accession to the throne the King and Queen of Italy have paid a visit to Venice, arriving last (Sunday) night. A picturesque reception was given by the Queen of the Adriatic to the young sovereigns. The palaces lining the Grand Canal from the Papadopoli Garden, just above and on the opposite bank to the railway station, down to the Riva degli Schiavoni, were bright with flags and bunting.

Gondolas, three and four deep, made a living lane of spectators along the route of the royal procession to the Palazzo Reale. The terrace and steps before the churches of Santa Maria Della Salute, San Eustachio and San Simeone Piccolo, the windows and gardens of the Hotel Britannia, the Grand Hotel, the Hotel Baur and, in fact, every point overlooking the Grand Canal, either in public or private residences, were black with people.

The King and Queen were received at the station by the Syndic, with the municipal authorities, the Prefect, the Director of the Arsenal, etc., military honors being rendered by the troops. They then entered the royal gondola, rowed by gondoliers in the livery of the house of Savoy.

They were escorted by eight or ten gorgeously decorated galleys, manned by rowers clad in the richest costumes that even the imagination of the Renaissance could devise.

The spectacle was strangely effective in its curious mingling of symbolical imagery, bewildering flood of rich color and contagious enthusiasm.

Last night there was a gigantic loyalist demonstration on the piazza de San Marco, in which over fifty associations of various kinds are taking part.

THRILLING NIGHT ON THE BAY.

Two Young Men Cling All Night to an Overturned Boat.

NEARLY LOST THEIR LIVES.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 30.—Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock the yacht Gracie capsized about two miles off Bay Farm Island, and two young men, Henry Demoussis and N. Alvest of Oakland, clung to the bottom of the boat until 9 o'clock this morning, when they were picked up by two boys from the island.

It appears that the young men started from San Leandro yesterday about 2 o'clock, being their intention to take the yacht to Oakland, where work on the boat could be completed.

After they were several miles out they discovered that the vessel was leaking from the centerboard slot, the centerboard not having been put in. To stop the leak they nailed a board over the opening, but the water continued to run in until they were about two miles off Bay Farm Island. They attempted to tack and the water rushed to one side of the yacht and it capsized. The young men are both good swimmers, and after the boat slipped on its side they climbed up the bottom and clung to the keel, when they signalled and yelled for several hours, but to no effect. Once they saw a steamer coming, but it passed them at too great a distance and their efforts to draw the attention of the people on board were in vain.

As night drew near they began to suffer from the cold, and when the rain began to come down the situation was doubly unpleasant.

All night long they clung to the keel of the yacht, and when picked up this morning both young men were stiff and cramped from the effects of their strained position on the bottom of the boat.

The yacht Gracie, which capsized, is owned by Jack Frates of San Leandro, and was launched only a short time ago. The young men stated that they will procure means of having the yacht raised and taken to Oakland, when work on it will be completed.

TELLING THE STORY OF SCHLEY'S MOVEMENTS WHILE HE WAS AT SEA.

COMMANDER MILLER TELLS OF THE CONDITION OF THE MERRIMAC AND SAYS HE COULD HAVE COALED HER AT SEA — READS FROM THE LOG AND MAKES EXPLANATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Admiral Dewey, was, as usual, one of the first to put in an appearance at the Court of Inquiry. The Admiral, as usual, wore only citizens' clothing upon his arrival but he was soon transformed into a gallant tar by donning his service uniform.

Captain Lemly and Mr. Hanna were engaged from the early morning in preparing the program for the day. There is much in the way of detail to be done each morning and they have fallen into the habit of coming direct to the court building, where they have their list of witnesses, files of documents and everything else bearing upon the case. They began the day's proceeding, according to custom, by recalling the witnesses of the preceding day.

Much interest was manifested in the probable appearance of Rear Admiral Cotton and Captain Miller, who surrendered, with much reluctance, the command of the Merrimac to Lieutenant Hobson, who afterward sunk the collier in the mouth of the harbor.

Captain Sutherland was asked whether when the vessels were blockading Cienfuegos, the harbor could be seen. He replied that he could not state definitely, "I do not believe they could see the harbor."

ON THE MERRIMAC.

The first new witness of the day Commander James M. Miller, who was in command of the collier Merrimac while that vessel was a part of Admiral Schley's flying squadron.

Captain Miller said that he had assumed command of the Merrimac on April 11th at Norfolk. He had taken on board at Lambert's Point soon afterward, about 5,000 tons of coal. His vessel had, he said, been capable at first of making between ten and eleven knots but he had trouble with his machinery so that by May 23d and 24th he would have hesitated in trying to secure a speed of more than seven knots. He read from the collier's log to show that the Iowa, the Massachusetts and the Castine had been coaled on the 23d and 24th. No record was found of the coaling of any vessel on the 25th or 26th, the time consumed in proceeding from Cienfuegos to Santiago.

"The sea," he said, "on the 25th was nasty, quite nasty. The Merrimac being a heavy vessel, its speed was affected, but if I had had a smaller vessel

SEEKING INFORMATION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—In addition to the enlisted men, three commissioned officers of Company K, Ninth Infantry, are supposed now to have been killed in the action at Samar last Saturday. The officers are: Captain Thomas W. Connell, First Lieutenant Edward A. Dampus, Major Surgeon R. S. Griswold. A question has arisen as to the accuracy of the cablegram received at the War Department for General Chaffee. The cablegram was requested to repeat it. The repetition disclosed some inaccuracies that materially changed the meaning.

The corrected dispatch states that eleven wounded have just arrived, that the remainder of the company having been killed. The company supplies and all rifles except three were captured. The company was attacked during breakfast, Company 72 strong. Officers Thomas W. Connell, Captain Edward A. Dampus, First Lieutenant Dr. R. S. Griswold, Major Surgeon.

As corrected, the dispatch shows that Company K, Ninth Infantry, suffered the disaster. No company was mentioned in the dispatch made public yesterday, the serious discrepancy between the original and the corrected dispatches, however, is that the latter indicates that the commissioned officers of the company are missing, perhaps killed, while the former indicated that they were captured. The father of Captain Connell resided in New York city. He telegraphed to the War Department today that he is in receipt of a cable from the Quartermaster of the Ninth Regiment saying that his son had been killed in action. He asks for confirmation of the dispatch from the War Department.

The officials here are unable at this time to confirm the information.

ELLSWORTH TAKES GAME ORDINANCE EXCEPTIONS.

Breed's Counsel Claims That Auditor Has Paramount Authority.

Argument in the mandamus suit of the Contra Costa Water Company against City Auditor Breed was resumed today in Judge Ellsworth's court. Attorney Earl, representing the Auditor, is continuing his argument against the validity of the claim of the Water Company which aggregates about $25,000.

The entire morning session was consumed by Attorney Earl in arguing that the powers of the City Auditor are discretionary, and that his duties are not analogous to those of the County Auditor.

It is contended by Breed's representative that the Auditor of the city may refuse to pass upon a claim even though the Council, Mayor and the Board of Public Works has approved the demand.

Judge Ellsworth took exception to several of the assertions made by Earl in his argument, and considerable discussion was held by the Judge and attorney upon the various points at issue.

Attorney McCutcheon began his argument for the Water Company this afternoon.

SAY BUT LITTLE ABOUT THE RACE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Says the London correspondent of the Herald: The papers have very little to say this morning about Saturday's race. The Daily Telegraph and Daily News are silent.

The Daily Mail says: There will be but little difference in the all-round capabilities of the rival yachts when they are tried over the triangular course.

The Daily Express says: "When it is all over we shall be alike satisfied, English and Americans, that either of us could beat any rival in the world, but each other—a healthy international prejudice that it is good to maintain even at a loss of many yacht races."

The Daily Graphic says: "The triangular course should be more favorable to Shamrock II."

The Morning Post says: "The next race to be decided is over a triangular course, each side of the triangle being ten miles in length. Judging by Saturday's struggle this should be in favor of the Shamrock II."

The Daily Chronicle says: "Sir Thomas Lipton has considerable reason for his unfavorable spirits. His yacht has astonished these American experts who decided after Thursday that the Shamrock II was a negligible quantity. We cherish the hope that in the next race it will blow hard."

HORTICULTURIST'S REPORT.

The following report by Horticulturist Barry of Niles was read and filed: "Since my last report, the fruit of this district has been all harvested except a few French prunes.

"This has been a very good year with orchardists here. Apples have been a good crop. Peaches and pears have been all kinds were half crop. The apricots and plums have nearly all been dried and sold to dryers in Santa Clara county at satisfactory prices. All the apricots, prunes and peaches dried here have been sold to a firm at Niles who have packed them in boxes and shipped them directly to the East from this station. All fruit was bright and free from smut and gave general satisfaction.

"The volume of business done at the Ellsworth dryer to date is in pounds dried as follows: Apricots, 23,239 pounds; peaches and plums, 33,352 pounds; French prunes, 63,556 pounds; total, 1,008,437 pounds.

"From August 17 to September 25 there was paid to growers over $2,000 for fruit. I was unable to procure any report of fruit dried at the Niles Co-operative Dryer, but will be able to do so in my next report.

"During the past month I have collected and distributed between three and four hundred copies of the Niles Ventralist, the enemy of the black scale-giving a good supply to over 1,200 acres of orchards.

"The reports from all orchardists have been very satisfactory as to the clean condition of their fruit.

"I visited, on June 14, a 5-year-old cherry orchard, and found the trees apparently in a dying condition and the owner very blue over the probable loss of his young orchard. The bark of this orchard had turned a yellowish color. The leaves had shriveled and were falling off and seemed as if the whole orchard was doomed. I advised the owner to slit the bark of each tree from the ground to the crotch, making four incisions at equal distances apart, then to slip each branch over or twice according to its size. He reported to me that one week after following my instructions he noticed a decided change for the better in the foliage of the trees and the orchard continued to improve in appearance. I visited it the beginning of this month, and found it in as healthy condition as any orchard in the valley.

"I give this experience hoping it will benefit any one who finds his orchard in a like condition. Respectfully submitted, 'WILLIAM BARRY, Horticulturist Commissioner.' Adjudged Oct 7.

SEVERE PROTEST FROM SINO.

The following petition regarding the road between Sunol and Pleasanton was read and filed:

"We, the undersigned, taxpayers and citizens of Murray Township, call your attention to the proposed change of road between Sunol and Pleasanton. The present road follows Laguna Creek and the people of this township, other trees which afford shade and drive during the heat of the day. The road is in good condition, as are also the two bridges. It is shorter than the proposed new road, every part of which will be in the blazing sun, and without shade of any kind. Your petitioners protest against the change of the road, and the reasons mentioned above and also because the last and only piece of free water and gravel on the road between Sunol and Pleasanton is to be given to the Spring Valley Water Company. A driver with cattle was driven from this water by a servant of the company, although as yet it belongs to the county. This piece of road is a mile, more or less, in length and of varying widths, containing several acres. Your petitioners cannot believe that the Spring Valley Water Company to take ownership of this road and close access to it to man and beast, and time. This modest company asks you to present to them the last piece of free water from the stream, belonging to the people. This Water Company has unlawfully fenced the road and prevented the people access to the gravel beds under the bridges, which is a county road. These proceedings give us a foretaste of what the company will do when the last rights of the people are turned over to its tenacious grasp. In view of the facts set forth, we ask your honorable body to strangle this monstrous wrong at once and forever and your petitioners will ever say."

The petition was signed by H. H. Ellis, Geo. Johnson, T. W. Webster, M. D. Jno. Wedeman, Alfred By, H. T. McDermott, George Conn, Pedro Kasset, J. W. Peck, P. J. Murphy, H. G. McGo, M. D., Charles A. NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Captain Thomas W. Connell, who commanded the unfortunate company of the Ninth United States Infantry which was almost annihilated on the Island of Samar Saturday, and who is one of the twenty-four survivors, is a New York man and is a brother of Assistant Attorney-General John H. Connell.

He is 28 years of age, graduated from West Point in 1894, and was appointed to the Ninth Infantry immediately upon graduation. In 1898 the regiment was sent to Cuba, where Lieutenant Connell was made brevet captain. After the war with Spain the Ninth regiment was sent to Manila, and on the outbreak of hostilities in China was sent there.

Young Connell distinguished himself at the storming of Peleliu, and last February was made Captain of Company C. The regiment was moved back from China to the Philippines several months ago. Captain Connell's most recent letter to his parents was dated August 14th from Samar.

WATER FRONT CO. SCHLEY CASE.

Council Will Pass the Resolutions and Accept the Cash.

The Water Front Company will pay into the city treasury $10,300 back taxes on Thursday evening when the City Council meets.

This decision was reached this morning at a conference between Attorney A. A. Moore and Agent Hays, representing the Water Front Company, and Auditor A. H. Breed and City Treasurer Felton Taylor and City Attorney Johnson, representing the city. There were two plans under consideration whereby the money could be paid into the treasury and at the same time keep the Water Front Company's title to its land free from future clouds. The first was for the Water Front Company to pay the full amount of $18,300 into the treasury, which covers all the taxes delinquent on both State and private property along the water front.

After the payment of this sum it would become incumbent on City Treasurer Taylor to return to the Water Front Company $8,000, representing the amount which is delinquent on the State property, and in no way responsible.

This plan was abandoned, the attorneys for the Water Front Company pointing out the fact that some crank after the money was paid into the treasury might bring mandamus proceedings against City Treasurer Taylor to prevent the Water Front Company from being reimbursed for the payment of taxes due on State property.

The other plan is that an ordinance and corresponding resolutions be introduced at the next meeting of the Council, cancelling the assessment levied on the property belonging to the State and peralting the Water Front Company to pay the back taxes which are due on its property irrespective to its relation to the State property.

President Schaffer of the Council and Mayor Barstow had a conference this morning and decided that the latter plan would be the most expeditious way of getting the money into the treasury. President Schaffer will introduce the ordinance, and the resolutions, which will cancel the assessment levied on the property belonging to the State and peralting the Water Front Company to pay the back taxes which are due on its property irrespective to its relation to the State property.

HER NEW MAID.

A young matron tells this joke of her bride attempts at housekeeping. She said she came to a greenhorn as a servant, and spent many weary hours teaching her the correct style. Her latest lesson related to the correct way to remove a victrola, and the maid was instructed in the mysteries of cards, card trays and the correct way to remove a victrola. When opening the door for a caller, after the door bell rang and Mrs. Edson heard the maid's remark, she said two steps at a time. "Saurer, m. there's one of them machines outside and a lady on the inside, and I've got to get in her hand and with a dash down the stairs again—I've forgotten me pin."—Starburst, Epoch.

HOW HE KNEW.

William Archer, the British author, tells an anecdote of the Hull house at Chicago which is worth repeating. He says that one of the Hull ladies, named with that institution was showing a collection of photographs of classical figures to a copy of the "Elastic Madonna," and asked:

"Yes," said the boy, "that is Jesus and His mother."

"Do you know?" continued the teacher, "how beautiful the figures are! You can't find such beauty of expression in any other picture."

"But the rims around their heads, ma'am, that gives them away," interrupted the boy.—"From William Curlliss' Washington Letter."

TOUCHY ABOUT THE MERRIMAC.

"I feel a little bit touchy about the Merrimac," he said.

Admiral Dewey assured him that he had displayed no temper.

Captain Miller was succeeded on the witness stand by Captain Theodore J. Jewell, who commanded the Spanish war, Minneapolis during the Spanish war. Captain Jewell said that he had first fallen in with the flying squadron under the command of Commodore Schley on the evening of May 26th, 1898. Captain Jewell quoted a dispatch to the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs dated February 15, 1899, saying: "I have been informed by the scouts commanded by such officers as Sigbee, Jewell and Wise that, although they had been on Santiago for a week, they had seen nothing of Cervera's fleet since it left Curacao," and asked whether he had given to Admiral Schley the information or any other to this line concerning the Spanish fleet, the witness replied: "I gave him no information with reference to the subject whatever."

The Judge Advocate asked: "At the time you were within signalling distance of the flagship of the flying squadron off Santiago were you at any time asked questions by Commodore Schley as to the presence of the Spanish squadron in Santiago?"

"They were always nasty," the witness responded.

"Do you recollect whether you went on board the flagship Brooklyn at this time?"

"I did not go on board that day."

"Captain Jewell said that when he had first seen Admiral Schley's statement as to the information he might have given concerning Cervera's fleet he had written a letter to the Department denying that he had done so. (Sigsbee) were you at any time asked questions by Commodore Schley as to the presence of the Spanish fleet in Santiago?"

The witness said in reply to a question from Mr. Rayner, that he had no recollection of anything being said, speaking for himself and for Captains Jewell and Wise, stated to Commodore Schley on May 26th, at Santiago, that either he (the witness) or Wise or himself (Sigsbee) were not sure whether they knew anything of the movements or whereabouts of the Spanish fleet. Nor did he know whether Captain Sigbee wrote a letter to Commodore Schley stating that that was a fact.

COALING QUESTION.

The Court here asked a question which opened up the coaling question. The question was: How far could the Minneapolis have gone with her four hundred tons of coal at the time you state?"

"I had burned 400 tons of coal I would have had something like twelve or thirteen hundred miles. That would have left the bunkers empty. I was burning about 95 tons a day and on that making 14 or 15 knots."

Drawn up by Captain Jewell, the fact that the distance from Santiago to Key West is 850 miles, Mr. Rayner said:

view of what you said just now, will you explain the signal that was given?"

the Minneapolis: Have you enough coal to go to Key West?"

Minneapolis to flagship: "Just enough."

"How do you explain that?"

"I am giving my recollection at the time. As I said, my coal supply was reduced and I was concerned. There were a great many signals being sent and I replied to the signal without consulting the coal account particularly, and I considered that three days' steaming was about the limit I could safely go."

"There is an error here of about 500 to 600 miles. Eight hundred and thirty-four, fourteen hundred are very different."

"I estimated the distance I could steam. I did not usually provide for burning every ounce of coal in the bunkers, and furthermore we have got to allow for contingencies. My coal expenditure was variable. I could not depend upon it."

"Then at this time, you just had enough according to these signals, to go to Key West?"

"I arrived in Key West with less than 100 tons of coal on board."

Captain Jewell was then excused and Captain McCalla was recalled for the purpose of correcting his testimony. When he was on the stand the court asked him two questions, which, together with the replies, were as follows:

By the Court: "Was there any place in the vicinity of Cape Cruz where large vessels could have found protection from westerly or southwesterly winds?"

"There was no place where the larger ships could take protection from westerly and southwesterly winds. The prevailing winds were from the east and southwesterly wind is of short duration in this vicinity, and means change of direction to the north very quickly."

FIGHTING BOB.

When the court convened for the afternoon session Rear Admiral Roby, of Evans, who as captain commanded the battleship Iowa during the battle of Santiago, was called to the witness stand. He stated that he had taken command of the flying squadron off Santiago on May 22 at 1 p. m., when he took the dispatches from Admiral Sampson to Commander Schley by his executive officer, Commander Rogers. He did not see the Commodore himself. As the dispatches were not translated he did not know their contents.

Judge Advocate: "Please state what, if anything, was done while this squadron was off Cienfuegos toward developing the fact as to whether the Spanish fleet under Cervera was or was not in the harbor of Cienfuegos."

"There was nothing done so far as I know."

"What, if anything, within your knowledge was done toward destroying or preventing the further completion of the enemy's batteries in the vicinity of Cienfuegos?"

"On Sunday afternoon I am quite sure Commodore Schley formed his squadron in columns and stood in a range of about a mile and a half from shore, made a turn and stood out again. That is the only thing I know of."

"Was any attack made upon the enemy or by the enemy at that time?"

"No sir; they all got up and stood on the breastworks and looked at us. We steamed out again. There was no firing."

"Were you then within range of the batteries in the vicinity of Cienfuegos with the heavier guns of your ship?"

"I did not see any batteries. There was no work they were completing there."

"Were you within range of this?"

"Quite easy range; yes."

"The battery of the Iowa consisted of four 10-inch guns, ten ten-inch and twelve six-inch guns."

"These emplacements batteries within range of your eight-inch guns when you steamed in?"

"They were in easy range."

"Were they within range of the four inch guns?"

"I should think so, yes."

"Did you see coal while at Cienfuegos, and if so how much did she take?"

"We gave her about 20 tons. We began at 7 o'clock in the morning and stopped late in the afternoon."

Admiral Evans said that he had coaled the Iowa from the Merrimac on May 23 while off Cienfuegos, and that he had had no difficulty in doing so.

Speaking of the report of the condition of the weather on May 21 and 25 the witness said that on the evening of the 24th it was squally; that on the morning of the 25th the sky was overcast and that on the 26th it was rainy; that in the afternoon it was worse, there being considerable rain with a long sea.

HOW A HORSE IS TRAINED TO TAKE PART IN A PLAY.

One actress not only carries a wardrobe in her travels, but a horse as well. The horse has dramatic ability and therefore has a role in the play in which its owner appears. "Off the stage" both take pleasure in ambling in the parks or along the avenue. "On the stage" the horse enjoys the curtain calls that are the portion of its rider after a particularly thrilling scene. Miss Blanche Bates and Cochrise have been the most important arrivals for the production of "Under Two Flags" to be made at Powers' Theater, and while the star dressing-room has been newly furnished for Miss Bates, Cochrise has been given the greater attention, since a special stall has been given for him right in the midst of the behind-the-scenes activities. Cochrise has been a feature of "Under Two Flags" since its first performance.

Miss Bates tells how she picked Cochrise up in a New York horse market when it became necessary for her to find an animal to carry her a stage horse and away from her enemies, the Arabs of the scorching desert. "I told Dr. Potter, the veterinary surgeon who runs the market," said Miss Bates, "that I wanted an animal that was sure-footed and deep-chested as well as young and strong enough to carry me up inclined runways at a gallop the whole distance—and you can see I am no feather-weight now—I was even heavier at the time. Dr. Potter gave me a number of horses to pick from. The moment my eye caught Cochrise in the troop I nudged mamma that he was the horse I wanted. I liked his face. Moreover, I fancied that he was the only horse in the bunch that looked admiringly at me. It was clear that Cochrise was possessed of gentlemanly instincts."

"So Cochrise became mine. I could only gather from Dr. Potter that Cochrise was a 3-year-old little Texan, half-breed, whose sire was a tame, mustang and whose dam was a wild, Mexican mare. The doctor added that Cochrise had been picked up in Texas by a young New Yorker of wealth and fashion and shipped to Newport direct to play polo there, and that after a year's steady work at that strenuous sport the poor creature had been discarded by his owner and sent back up on the market to be sold again to the first corner, fair or foul. GRAND JURY IS DRAWN.

Interesting Charge Is Read by Judge Melvin in the Superior Court.

The Grand Jury was drawn this morning by Judge Melvin and the proceeding was remarkable in that very few excuses were presented.

Thirty names were originally drawn, of whom all but three were summoned. E. W. Marston, N. L. Babb and Michael Tarry.

W. H. Watkins was excused for the reason that he is a municipal officer, being the Town Clerk of Livermore.

George H. Jeffries was excused on the showing that he had bought a ticket for St. Louis, where he is to attend an important meeting. Daniel L. Randolph was excused for a similar reason.

H. W. Watkins asked to be excused for the reason that he is manager of a manufacturing plant and is depended upon for the running of the business.

Judge Melvin decided, however, that Watkins could so arrange matters with his fellow jurors as to be present at his plant upon any important occasion.

Wallace Everson, who is president of a Surety Company, also pleaded business as an excuse, but was required by Judge Melvin to serve.

The jury as finally drawn is as follows, with C. A. Sessions as foreman: Wallace Addison, P. Ramond, H. W. Watkins, G. E. Chittenden, E. E. Hall, James Linford, H. C. Taft, E. P. Flint, W. I. Reed, Andrew Ramage, Solomon Ehrman, C. A. Klose, Elsha K. Waterman, J. F. W. Sohst, George Kirk, D. M. Coe, Henry Michaels, C. A. Sessions and August Hagerman.

After the jury had been drawn, Judge Melvin read to them his charge. The document is in part as follows:

"First, gentlemen, it is the duty of the Grand Jury to inquire into all public offenses committed or triable within the county, and to present them to the court by indictment. The offenses into which you will inquire are those of which the Superior Court of this county has jurisdiction. You will not inquire into any offenses the prosecution of which has been barred by lapse of time. And I instruct you that there is no limitation of time within which a prosecution for murder, the embezzlement of public moneys and the falsification of public records must be commenced. Prosecution for murder may be commenced at any time after the death of the person killed, and for embezzlement of public moneys or the falsification of public records at any time after the discovery of the crime."

"In the investigation of a charge, the Grand Jury can receive no other evidence than such as is given by witnesses produced and sworn before them, or furnished by legal, documentary evidence, or the deposition of a witness."

"I will now call your attention to certain provisions of the Statute, which are given for your protection, more than anything else. Every person who gives or offers to give a bribe to any juror with intent to influence his vote, opinion or decision, upon any matter or question which is or may be brought before him for decision, is punishable by imprisonment in the State Prison, not less than one, nor more than ten years. Every juror who asks, or receives, or agrees to receive any bribe upon any agreement or understanding that his vote, opinion or decision, upon any matter or question which is or may be brought before him for decision, shall be influenced thereby, is punishable by imprisonment in the State Prison not less than one, nor more than ten years."

"It is not your duty, gentlemen, to be so lost to all sense of decency as to approach you improperly but if such threats should be made, either by oral communication or written, it is your duty at once to make known that fact to the Court, to the effect that the offender may be rigidly and properly punished."

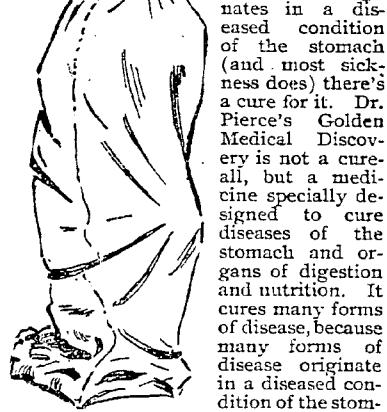

"It is your duty, as I have indicated, to inquire into the wilful and corrupt misconduct in office of the public officers of every description within the county. An accusation in writing against any district, county, township or municipal officer, for wilful or corrupt misconduct in office, or for wilful refusal or neglect to perform any official duty, may be presented by the Grand Jury of any county for or in which the officer accused is selected or appointed. You are entitled to free access at all reasonable times, to the public prison, and to the examination without charge of all public records within the county."

"Every member of the Grand Jury must keep secret whatever he, himself or any other Grand Juror may have said, or in what manner he or any other Grand Juror may have voted on a matter before them. This is an important matter, gentlemen, and I desire you to particularly impress it on your minds, and to act strictly under this injunction. Let me particularly impress you, gentlemen, that you must not, when upon the streets, or at any place outside of the grand jury room, talk about or discuss with anybody, what has taken place before the Grand Jury. Your deliberation and the conduct of your fellow jurors must be kept strictly inviolate."

"Finally, gentlemen, I wish to say a few words in relation to the exercise by you of the high powers and duties imposed upon you. Your function is not to establish guilt but to ascertain whether there is sufficient ground for belief that any person has committed a crime to justify putting him on trial for such offense. While it is true that under our modern system of criminal procedure most crimes that formerly came under the cognizance of the Grand Jury are now dealt with by the committing magistrate and District Attorney, there are still certain classes of offenses which belong to you to investigate. The first are those offenses the story of which is spread abroad by the public press or by public rumor, but in which no one individ-

If sickness originates in a diseased condition of the stomach (and most sickness does) there's a cure for it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is not a cure-all, but a medicine specially designed to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures many forms of disease, because many forms of disease originate in a diseased condition of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition.

"I write to tell you of the great benefit I have received from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. G. B. Bird, of Byron, Putnam County, West Va. "It cured me of a very bad case of indigestion associated with torpid liver. Before I began the use of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I had no appetite; could not sleep or work but very little. The little that I ate did not agree with me, bowels constipated. It was a misery to me. I wrote to Dr. Pierce, giving the symptoms, and asked for advice. You advised me to try the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' So I began the use of it, and after taking four bottles I felt so well that I went to work, but soon got worse, so I began the use of it, and used it about eight weeks longer, when I was permanently cured. I took in all about twelve bottles of the 'Discovery,' and some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets in connection with the 'Discovery.'"

Wives:

Let me tell you a secret, for I speak from experience. When meals are behind time and are badly cooked; when the house is full of smoke and everything covered with dust—it is all the fault of the old coal-stove—you need a good gas stove. Tell your husband this. It will take about three months to get it into his head—I was four—and if he does not appreciate facts, just call his attention to the difference in cost. In any event you should be well fixed by Thanksgiving. This is strictly entre nous.

SIGNS OF PERMANENCY.
That the great Alaskan gold fields along the banks of the Yukon are considered a permanent source of wealth is indicated by some recent notable investments there. A few days ago the news came that the first stamp mill in that part of the world was in course of construction, and now the dispatches advise us of the completion of the pioneer telegraph line into the Klondike country, a wire having been stretched from Vancouver, B. C., via Atlin, White Horse and Dawson, a distance of 2,200 miles.

The capitalists who have made these investments are of course thoroughly satisfied with the prospects of the country, or else they would not have gone to the vast expense that must have been entailed in establishing such enterprises in a faraway land. The stamp mill, for example, is an indication that the great quartz reefs of which prospectors have often spoken really exist, and that being so, there is no telling the mineral possibilities of our northern territory. There is a fair probability to the effect that a mountain of gold marks the North Pole, and although such a treasure-pile is of course out of the question, there is no doubt that Alaska contains vast seams of the yellow metal. The enormous riches of the placer belt in the Klondike country furnish good evidence of this, for the gold thus washed down the water courses must have come from some main reef or exceedingly rich deposit, and when the mother lode is located Alaska may perchance prove more of a treasure-land than any other mineral section the world has ever known.

As for the telegraph line, the Canadian Government would not have gone to all that expense unless it was satisfied that the business of the Klondike country is not of an ephemeral nature. Its consular agents and special representatives have gone over the situation thoroughly and the outcome of their reports should be encouraging to those having business interests at Dawson City. Whether or not success will attend the proposed locating of farmers on Southern Alaska remains to be seen, but even supposing that owing to the climatic severities agriculture cannot be profitably conducted the work yet to be done in the gold fields ensures a permanent mining business for Dawson for several years to come. By that time other developments may have arisen creating new opportunities for commercial interests, so altogether the Klondike country appears to be in good shape. Its four years of existence have been marked by as phenomenal a growth as has ever been attained by any section in the world and but a small percentage of the pleasant prophecies made for it are fulfilled. Dawson is going to be the permanent trading station for a district far richer than even the famous South African Rand.

British society is startled because King Edward is going to knight a sajoon keeper. In view of the monarch's record when Prince of Wales, it might have been figured that in some ways he would be inclined to the opinion that a bar is not a bar.

A baseball trust is in process of formation. A monopoly created with such objects surely does not deserve to be.

AN INDUSTRIAL DANGER.
Those who are in the habit of glancing at the newspapers published in the interior of the State are confronted at every turn with boldly displayed advertisements "that 1,000 stoveholders are wanted in San Francisco, that 500 porters and packers can find employment in the metropolis and so on.

This is a feature of the strike that is likely to create great industrial trouble later on. The attempts to lift the labor blockade in the metropolis by importing workmen from the East having failed owing to the success of the strikers in inducing the non-union men to forego their contracts on arriving here, recourse is now being made to the resources of the State itself. The laborer in the farming district is therefore being invited to come to town and as big inducements are held out in the shape of wages far ahead of those paid in the country the chances are that there will be a liberal response to the appeals.

Now as to what will follow. It will be remembered that the farmers already experience great difficulty in securing sufficient labor to handle their lands and crops. If, therefore, the farming districts are to be drained of their workmen it is easy to see what dangers are confronting the agricultural interests of the State. Then, again, a farmhand who has been getting a dollar a day in the country and who will receive three times that amount in town will not relish going back to the farm again when later on the strike is ended, especially so as life in the metropolis has to the average individual, far more inducements than existence in the country. The result will be that cities will be glutted with labor, while the farms will correspondingly suffer and many months must necessarily pass before conditions will adjust themselves again.

This phase of the strike is another of the many evils that are growing out of it, and each of which forms a powerful argument for ending it as speedily as possible. Surely the Employers' Association has by this time reached the conclusion that every unprejudiced individual long since realized was existing—that the lock-out can only be ended by arbitration. We have had enough of the stiff-necked policy that has prevailed let it be decided to make concessions upon both sides and then call a meeting, at which the details thereof can be arranged. Unless something of this sort is speedily determined upon the Christmas that is fast approaching will be a mighty sorry one for California, instead of the merry one to which we are entitled.

A DISGRUNTLED DEMOCRACY.
It is not surprising that the Democrats across the bay are having so much trouble to secure a man to lead their cause at the coming election. If ever there was a forlorn hope they are confronted by one now, for, in addition to the factional discontents that have grown out of the pseudo-reform administration at the City Hall, the strike seems destined to be more of a danger to them than to all their political opponents put together.

Two years ago who would have thought that in such a short space of time the day would come when Mayor Phelan would be hoisted and hissed from a public platform in San Francisco. He was then the idol of the hour, so much so that even as straight-laced a man and as staunch a citizen as Horace Davis was overwhelmingly defeated by him at the polls, Republicans joining with Democrats to elevate him to the highest place in the civic government. Since then, however, have come the scandals attending his attempt to place Esola at the head of the police department, the open antagonism of the Examiner, the dissatisfaction regarding the way the Civil Service bureau is handled, quarrels with the bosses who before the election he had enrolled as his allies, and the soundings of discord in the Board of Supervisors that was supposed to be in harmony with him.

These, however, were scarcely the reasons that caused the demonstration against him at the Metropolitan Temple Saturday night. The workmen who were present showed that they held him directly responsible for the energetic crusade the police are making against the strikers, their point being that Chief Sullivan would not issue such orders without the consent of the Mayor. Outside of the merits of that point, however, it is now absolutely certain that Phelan cannot run again for Mayor, as many have predicted he would do at the eleventh hour, and as all the leading Democrats are sensibly declining to be led into the political shambles for slaughter, that party is in a very bad condition just now across the bay, as far as municipal affairs are concerned. However, it will make it that much easier for a good Republican to be elected, so the people get the benefit of the complications, which, whatever else may be said about them, certainly mark the passing of Phelanism for many years to come.

Although the house of clerical and lay delegates is composed of four clergymen and four laymen from each diocese, Thomas says that the clergy of his diocese succeeded in electing only three. They adjourned without electing the fourth, after taking a large number of ballots. The Pennsylvania delegation includes Rev. Dr. Fulton, Rev. Dr. Bodine, Rev. Dr. Olmsted, George C. Thomas, Francis A. Lewis, Rowland Evans and William W. Frazer. The other members of the delegation are, Thomas says, will arrive within a day or two.

"From present indications," said Thomas last evening, "I should say that probably 400 members will sit in the convention out of a total of about 600. It is quite a hardy lot of men, people to attend a gathering of this kind, for it means to an Eastern man an absence of five weeks from his home, his wife and his children. The convention extends over a period of three weeks, and nearly two weeks more are occupied in coming and going. Circumstances will thus prevent the attendance of large numbers. One of those who will particularly be missed is Rev. Dr. Dicks, who has presided over the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies the last year, but not coming, and his absence will necessitate the election of a president. Several people are being prominently mentioned for the office, including Rev. Dr. Alsop of Brooklyn, Rev. Dr. Huntington of New York, Rev. Dr. Lindsay of Boston and Joseph Packard.

Thomas is informed that among the members of J. Pierpont Morgan's party the Bishop Potter, Bishop Doane, Dr. Parks, James J. Goodwin of Connecticut who is a nephew of Morgan, and a number of personal friends. Had not Bishop Whipple of Minnesota died the day before last, he would also have been one of Morgan's party.

"The picturesque figure of Bishop Whipple will be missed in the convention by those of us who have been used to seeing him at the annual gatherings in past years," said Thomas. "He was called the Apostle of the Indians, and was one of the grandest men, and, at the same time, one of the most touchingly eloquent of the church."

was a note of $50 which fell due on Saturday and to avoid payment he conceived the plan of hiding the money and reporting himself as having been robbed. Little turned over to Chief of Police Hodgkins a little over $100 of the money.

FAKE ROBBERY IS EXPOSED.
W. V. Lillie, Contractor, Makes Confession to the Chief of Police.

Contractor W. V. Lillie, a Berkeley contractor, rushed into the police station last Saturday evening and breathlessly exclaimed that he had been robbed of over $700 in gold and a gold watch while walking near the center of the city while on his way home.

In less than twenty-four hours afterward, under a severe cross-examination of two hours duration by Chief of Police Hodgkins, Lillie broke down and confessed that he had concocted the story of highway robbery to deceive his creditors and secure a little peace from their importunities.

Saturday afternoon Lillie says he drew $500 from the bank, and out of this sum paid $100 to his men and $250 for material, leaving something over $100 in his possession. He then went home, giving his wife a sufficient sum to meet the running expenses of the house, after which he put his money and watch in a bureau drawer. Taking a car for Oakland, he made his way leisurely to the City Prison and in well simulated excitement told the story of being robbed.

There was something in the telling of the story that impressed Chief of Police Hodgkins as improbable, so on Sunday afternoon he took Lillie through a sweating process lasting from 1 o'clock until 4 with the result that Lillie confessed that there

M'KINLEY EDITIONS.
The McKinley Memorial Edition issued by the San Francisco Wasp has been received with great favor by the public and several editions have been required to meet the enormous demand for it. Its success is fully deserved as no finer souvenir has ever been issued. It contains a great number of beautiful engravings descriptive of President McKinley's recent visit to California and the various receptions accorded him in Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, San Francisco, San Jose, etc. The part taken by President McKinley in the launching of the battleship Ohio, his speech to the workmen of San Francisco, the naval procession on San Francisco Bay, and in fact all the principal events of the late chief magistrate's tour are treated admirably in artistic engravings. There are also full page portraits of the President in his late Canton home, of Mrs. McKinley, President Roosevelt, and family, and the Cabinet officers. The closing scenes of the martyred President's life are reproduced and his last speech reprinted in full. Lifelike pictures of Presidents Lincoln and Garfield are given. The introductory poem, "Resignation," has received unqualified praise for the elevated tone in which it treats the serene end of the martyred President's last words, "It is His way, God's will be done." The splendid memorial number is for sale by all newsdealers.

COUNCILMAN COURTNEY ANSWERS REV. PHILLIPS.

COUNCIL HAS NOT ORDERED THE READING ROOMS CLOSED
—TRUSTEES ARE TREATED IN A LIBERAL MANNER IN THE TAX LEVY.

"The Councilmen have announced to the Board of Library Trustees that they must either close the reading rooms of the city for the remainder of the fiscal year or else allow the new Carnegie library building to stand vacant and unfinished."

This is the statement made by Rev. J. W. Phillips to the congregation of the Second Congregational Church last evening.

"Mr. Phillips is entirely mistaken," said Councilman Courtney, chairman of the Finance Committee, this morning. "The Council never announced, individually or collectively, to the Library Trustees or anybody else that they would either have to close the reading rooms or leave the new building vacant and unfinished for the present. There is no reason why the new library should not be completed and furnished and the reading rooms kept open. It rests solely with the Library Trustees whether this shall or shall not be done. All they have to do is to spend less money for new books."

"In apportioning the new tax levy the Council allowed the Library about $25,000, as against $32,000 allowed by the Auditor. This allowance contemplates the expenditure of $5,000 for new books and $20,000 for completing and furnishing the new building. It will cost about $2,200 to keep the reading rooms open."

"Having once allowed money for the Library the Council has nothing further to say about the method of its expenditure. That rests alone with the Trustees."

ENEMIES OF THE EMPIRE.

Times Says That the Nationalists
Are Not to Be Trusted.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Discussing the Irish question and the South African situation the Times in an editorial today says the nation will never again trust the government of the British Empire to a party which can be made and unmade by the Irish Nationalists.

The South African war and the attitude of the Irish during that war have brought home the danger of such a step more forcibly than ever to the whole people.

Throughout the war the Irish party have spared no pains to show that they are persistent and determined enemies of the empire.

"The demonstration has not been lost on the nation."

STRIKER WILL BE GIVEN SEVERE LESSON.

E. Pastine, who claims to be a teacher in San Francisco, and who, in company with Harry Connors, was arrested by Patrolman Collett at the corner of East Twelfth street and Thirteenth avenue for last evening and shooting a gun in the air yesterday afternoon, was arraigned on three charges in the Police Court this morning. The charges were drunkenness, carrying concealed weapons and discharging firearms within the city limits. He pleaded guilty of the charge of being drunk and will be sentenced tomorrow. He will be tried on the other charges when his sentence expires.

Connors and Pastine say they were out driving and that while under the influence of liquor their desire for excitement got the better of their judgment and that they fired a pistol into the air simply to make a noise.

Judge Smith holds that such recklessness, endangering the safety of the public, is not justifiable and held Pastine to answer on all three charges.

BLIND MAN DIES AT THE ADULT HOME.

Sivert Sivertson, an inmate of the Home for Adult Blind at the corner of Thirtieth street and Telegraph avenue, died yesterday morning. The deceased was a native of Norway. He was 65 years old. He had been an inmate of the Home for many years. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The interment will be in Mountain View Cemetery.

UNCLE SAM IS PROSPEROUS.

The Present Condition of the United States Is Most Gratifying.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Secretary of the Treasury Chase, who is spending a few days at the home of his son in Nevada, before going to Colorado to spend his vacation, said in regard to the present large surplus in the Treasury: "The prosperous condition of the country must be most gratifying. The decrease in the expenditures of the government, is a salient feature in the increase. From June 30 to September 30, the revenue amounted to $125,000,000. The expenditures were $121,000,000. This left an excess of nearly $4,000,000. During the same period in 1900 the receipts were $139,000,000 and the expenditures the same. Of course the fact must be taken into consideration that the income for the last three months was under the lower schedule and represents a larger amount of business than during the same period last year, when the $139,000,000 was received."

It was estimated when the present revised revenue law was put in force on July 1st that the receipts from all sources would fall off some $40,000,000. If that had been realized the receipts would have been $7,000,000 less for the same period. Notwithstanding the reduction in taxes the receipts have diminished by less than $3,000,000 from what they were a year ago, while the expenditures have decreased by over $17,000,000 for the same period.

"Up to the present time, however, the accumulation of money in the Treasury which would be the natural effect at this time, has been more than overcome by the purchase of bonds in the open market by the government during the last three months there having been bought bonds having a face value of $19,500,000, for which over $24,000,000 was paid. The actual cash in the Treasury has thus been reduced and the excess of revenues over expenditures taken care of for the time being."

STATEMENT OF MCKINLEY BY MARY BAKER EDDY.

The First Christian Science Church of Oakland has requested the publication of the following article from the New York Sun of September 20th:

Concord, N. H., Sept. 19.—In connection with the memorial meeting for President McKinley held here today, Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy has made public the following:

TRUE GREATNESS.

By Mary Baker Eddy. Imperative, accumulative, holy demands rested on the life and labors of our late loved President, William McKinley. Presiding over the destinies of a nation meant more to him than a mere rehearsal of aphorisms, a unifying of breaches soon to widen, a quiet ascent or descent. It began with heavy strokes, measured movements reaching from the infinitesimal to the infinite. It began warning the marble of politics into zeal according to wisdom, quenching its volcanoes, untiring the interests of all peoples, and it ended in a universal good overcoming evil. His home relations enfold a wealth of affection—a tenderness not talked, but felt and lived. His humanity, weighed in the scale of divinity, is not found wanting. His public intent was uniform, consistent, sympathetic and so far as it fathomed the abyss of difficulties was wise, brave, unselfish.

May his history awaken a tone of truth that shall reverberate, renew euphony, emphasize humane power and hear its heart in the east forever. While our nation's ensign of peace and prosperity waves over land and sea, while her reapers are strong, her sheaves garnered, her treasury filled, she is suddenly stricken, called to mourn the loss of her renowned leader. Tears blend with her triumphs. She stoops to think, to mourn; yea, to pray that the God of harvest send her more laborers, who, while they work for their own country, shall sacredly regard the liberty of other peoples and the rights of man.

What cannot love and righteousness achieve? The moral law that can be taught, and more than history has yet recorded. All good that ever was written, taught or wrought, comes from God and human faith in the right. Through divine love the right Government is assimilated, the way pointed out, the process shortened and the joy of acquiescence consummated. May God sanctify our nation's sorrow in our weeping, and His love and His comfort the living as it did the departing. O, may His love shield, support and comfort the chief mourner at the desolate home.

INJURED BY A TRUCK ON A FERRY STEAMER.

George J. W. Stark, a well known business man of San Francisco, who resides at 75 Thirteenth street in this city, was seriously injured Saturday last by being struck and run down by a loaded baggage truck on board a ferry steamer which was about to leave the slip in San Francisco for this side of the bay. At

PASTOR DILLE SAYS IT IS TIME TO BE ALARMED.

DENOUNCES THOSE WHO WOULD ARRAY THE POOR AGAINST THE RICH — CALIFORNIA OUGHT TO HANG HER HEAD IN SHAME.

Rev. E. R. Dille, pastor of the First Methodist Church, delivered a stirring sermon last evening on the subject, "The Crime of Arraying Class Against Class." His sermon, which dealt with the San Francisco strike, was directly to the point. Dr. Dille spoke in part as follows:

"We may well look with apprehension and alarm upon those who try to array the poor against the rich, the masses against the classes. Every age has been cursed by the demagogue who practices as a fine art the stirring up of class hatred and class strife."

"Long centuries ago Alcibiades, the most brilliant prodigy in history, arrayed the poor of Athens against the rich and told them that society was divided into two classes—the shepherds and the shorn. In that evil hour the workers on the Greek farms dropped their tools, left the grain to perish in the field and the fruit to rot on the vines and trees. The sailors left the ships to rot in the harbor and the goods to be destroyed on the wharves. In the city the shops were closed, the hum of industry was no longer heard, but in its stead the streets were filled with riot, brawls and tumult."

"On the morning of the day when the poor built barricades on one side of the street and the rich intrenched themselves in the buildings on the other Athens was in the zenith of its wealth and beauty. But when that long battle was over the city was in a mass of smoking ruins, the rich had become poor and the poor beggars. The silence of the desert fell upon the city that had been the center of civilization."

SAN FRANCISCO'S STRIKE.

"Look at San Francisco for the past two months. Riotous proceedings have taken place there and assaults have been perpetrated that make every citizen of California hang his head in shame. I am not here to take the side of employer or employee—God has not made me a judge between my fellow-citizens. I am only here to preach righteousness according to the law of God, and peace on earth, good will to men."

"My sympathies are naturally with the toiler. I have earned by labor $25 a month and lived on it. There is scarcely a tool of manual labor that I do not know how to use. We are all workmen here tonight. People say that workmen do not go to church. The trouble is, as Bishop McCabe says, we get our Sunday clothes on; they think we are all bankers and millionaires. It is religion and not wealth that makes us look so prosperous. And as for a strike under one aspect, it is a perfectly proper and lawful thing. No one can question the right of one man or of 1,000 to quit work if unjustly treated. Indeed, there is something sublime and heroic when men choose to quit work and suffer hunger and privation in order that manifest wrongs done to some of their number may be righted. If strikes were always lawfully conducted no one need dread them but the oppressors of the poor. But frequently strikes inspired by visionary and ambitious leaders who array class against class destroy the peace and subvert the social order of communities."

THE PASTOR'S CHARGE.

"Tonight I charge those who directly or indirectly conspire to prevent others from working for their living, with the sin of the ancient Mr. Stark was conversing with a friend. The truck was loaded with baggage and had attained so great a momentum that the blow felled Mr. Stark to the deck, where he was run over and bruised internally by the heavy vehicle."

The blow also rendered the victim unconscious, and consciousness was not regained until after the home of Mr. Stark had been reached. It seems that the loaded truck was piled high with baggage and, in shoving it aboard, the men did not see that the patient was being attended by physicians who are unable as yet to tell what will be the result of Mr. Stark's injuries."

BIG AUDIENCES AT DIETZ OPERA HOUSE.

Saturday and Sunday evenings the Dietz Opera House was crowded at each performance to witness the Fischer Specialty Company from San Francisco, direct from the concert house in that city. The performance was up to all expectations and if the same standard of performers are secured it will bring the entertainment up to such a high degree that the success of the new venture will be assured. Director Owen is doing his utmost to give a bill equal to the best on earth for the price of admission, and in this he is apparently succeeding. Next Saturday and Sunday evening there will be new faces with the same popular prices.

by force from doing the work they themselves refuse to do as being anarchists and enemies of society."

"We have swept away slavery at a great cost because it permitted a man to say to his fellows: 'You shall work on my terms whether you choose or not.' But worse than slavery is that other despotism which says 'If you work when I do not want you to do so, I will maim your horses, I will beat you, I will kill you.'"

"Here is a man whose wife is sick and his children are home crying for bread; his rent is due and he must pay it or be turned into the street; the tenderest and holiest ties of life call upon him to go to the shop and earn a little to keep the wolf from the door and his dear ones from the potter's field; and because he tries to sell his labor, his only asset, for bread, he is set upon and beaten into a jelly."

"I tell you when men confederate together to prevent others by force from doing the work they refuse to do they are fighting not for liberty, but against the sacred rights of man. There is no difference between them and the most tyrannous monopolist who ever bankrupted his rivals; there is no difference if they resort to violence between them and the anarchist who sets all government and all law at defiance."

CLASS HATRED.

"Any attempt to stir up class hatred is un-American and vicious. To hear some agitators talk, one would think that the American workman was sinking year by year into a more hopeless servitude and slavery, that every man's hand is against them outside their own ranks, and that there is a gigantic conspiracy to oppress and rob them. While it is true that labor does not yet receive its full share of the benefits of the great era of invention and wealth in which we are living, still the position of workmen was never so good as it is today. During the last century the average income in the United States increased fivefold, but that of the workmanman six and a half times, and the report of the Senate committee shows that the average daily wage has risen and a half times the purchasing power it had in 1840."

"Friends class hatred can rear no other but only close or destroy the already existing. It can fill the granaries, but it can hurl a firebrand into those that industry and enterprise have already filled. The interests of capital and labor are not a seesaw in which one is only up when the other is down, but their interests are inseparable and identical."

"The vast majority of capitalists are only successful workers and their capital is accumulated savings. If that employer will draw off his glove you will see the broken nail, the stiffened finger, the stump left by the buzz-saw or the calloused palm, the badge of honest toil. The great publishers started as typesetters, the great Studebaker's sandpapered wagon bodies and the great merchants began as errand boys. That railroad president 'hit the road' as a brakeman."

"The class hatred which prevails in countries where hereditary classes rule has no place in this free land. As President McKinley said in his address to the high school here:

"There is no position in this country so high but that the boy from the forge, the factory or the farm may aspire to and achieve it."

"In Europe society is stratified like the rocks, where the upper stratum holds the lower down forever, but with us society is stratified like the waters of the ocean, where each drop is free to move and the lowest may rise and glitter on the crest of the highest wave."

DISCIPLINE FOR THE AMERICAN MIND.

The American colony is full of students who come over to study music and painting, to profit by the severe and accurate mode of teaching, as in the schools of law, medicine and science. The exquisitely accurate French mind is of incalculable advantage to the less definite and trained American intellect. Our intellects are like our scenery, broad, large, unimpaired, lacking outline and definition. We need that severe French training to curb our exuberance, to teach us to band our immense power, as we now use Niagara to run a street railroad fifty miles away.—Mrs. Sherwood in the Smart Set.

IF THERE was one oil well that produced as much oil every 24 hours as the combined output of all of the oil wells of the whole State of California for the same time, you would think it a fine oil well, wouldn't you? If you had interested yourself in the first issues of the stock of the Company owning and operating on 215 acres of oil land, adjoining such an oil well, and if the drill had reached oil, wouldn't you feel jubilant over your investment, wouldn't you? Now how is this—Captain De La Mar's two-year old Bully Hill Mine produces as much value in gold, silver and copper every 24 hours as the value of the combined output of all of the oil wells of the whole State of California for the same time. We do own and operate 215 acres of mineral ground on the same contract, and as our prospects are most flattering you might say we have "reached the oil sands." The first issues of stock are now on the market and you have an opportunity to interest yourself at "Ground Floor" prices. Fifteen cents cash, 17 1/2c on installments. Stock fully paid and non-assessable. It is reported that the Bully Hill Mine is producing at the rate of $6,000,000 per annum. If you are interested call at our office, we will tell you all about it and show you the figures.
